

Brewing Graduate Programme

Expand your professional horizon in Brewing

Our Graduate Programme gives the opportunity to graduates holding a degree in Chemistry, Chemical Engineering, Food Science or Brewing and Distilling, to apply their knowledge and gain hands-on experience within our fast-paced and technologically advanced production setting, while learning the process behind Brewing. Successful candidates will be assigned a Mentor, providing them with guidance, coaching and supervision throughout their journey with our team.

Programme Details

If you are passionate, ambitious and self-motivated, aspiring to launch a successful career in Brewing, our 12-month paid Graduate Programme is for you! Our exciting Programme consists of various modules of the Company's operations and production cycle, with a greater focus specifically on Brewing. You will be assigned projects involving the technical process of brewing aimed to achieve desired quality assurance and production targets, research, data recording, analysis and evaluation of production productivity and efficiency.

Eligibility Criteria

- Candidates should meet the following criteria:
- University degree in Chemistry, Chemical Engineering, Food Science or Brewing and Distilling.
- Previous experience related to brewing will be considered an advantage.
- A passion for brewing.
- Excellent command of the Greek and English languages.
- Enthusiastic professional with a growth mindset and eager to learn.

Remuneration Package

The graduate will receive an attractive remuneration and benefits package including 13th salary, medical insurance and other benefits.

Upon completion of the Programme, the graduate will register with the company's HR department as 'Internally Recommended Professionals', making them the first point of contact should the Company has available permanent vacancies in the future.
